KEY FEATURES:

Count and estimate results are displayed real time in an application panel. The count and estimate data report can also be stored in a separate document.

Copy fitting tools

- Single click "Fit text to frame" changes the text attributes within a permitted range to fit text to frame. It calculates the optimal ratio of font size and tracking change with results better than any manual adjustment.

Overset tools

- Overset text can be displayed in a separate frame attached to the overset story.
- Overset preflight prevents expensive mistakes. You can use automatic preflight every time you print or export.
- From the overset frames list you can go directly to a specific overset frame.

Count features

- Counts characters (including or excluding spaces), words, lines, paragraphs, manuscript lines, and manuscript pages. Counts overset characters and words.
- When the text in the selected range is overset, you will see exact amounts of overset, too. Counts in a selection, a paragraph, a text frame, a story, a page, or in the whole document.

Estimate function

- Estimates characters and words needed to fill a text chain or frame, using defined style and document language. Estimates in a text chain which is either empty or has some remaining space.

Price calculation features

- Text Count can calculate price per stroke, word, manuscript line, or page. Uses user-defined currency.
