Product Overview

1.2

Text Count provides quick and easy control over word counts, overflows and thanks to its unrivaled estimate function you can control even the text which was not submitted yet.

This QuarkXPress XTensions works as a palette showing the designer real time count and estimate results. To store this information it creates comprehensive reports document which are ready to pass on to finance department for freelance payments.

Forget about dummy text and copy pasting to text processors to get your estimates and word count done. Text Count performs real time counts displaying up to date results in every second of production. It also estimates text elements in empty text boxes helping you adjust size of frames according to desired word count and style.

Story Summary displays counts for separate stories. Number of story is a number of frame, where story begins.

Indexed document is a separate document with numbers assigned to each frame. Different colors are used when text boxes overlay.

General Options

4.1

In general options dialog you can choose following parameters of counts and estimates:

- whether to consider text placed completely off page when performing count of the entire document
- when active estimate will ignore text boxes containing some text when performing count of the entire page or document
- enter number of strokes per on manuscript line according to your specifications; default value is 55
- enter number of strokes per one manuscript page according to your specifications; default value is 1440

Price Options

In the second tab of options dialog, you can set up your preferences for price counting.

Choose the method you use for counting price. Then you can fill in the price of one element (word, stroke etc.). This amount will be multiplied by number of such elements in text to get the price of counted range.

If you pay your contributors per range of word count, add the ranges and prices to the Article ranges list by entering boundary amounts of words and price applying to range between the number you entered and the closest lower number in the list.

If you enter number smaller than the highest number in the list, affected range will split. If you delete a range in the middle of a list the higher range will expand to the lower border amount. After adding highest number in list, range # and more will be created automatically. To adjust the price for story exceeding the highest entered number by choose this range, enter desired amount and click Change button.

You can choose the currency code to be displayed with the price results. If your currency code is not on the list, you can type it in.

Price per range specifics

Price per range can be counted only when selected range is story or document.

Profiles

4.3

If you use same criteria and pricing method for all jobs, you can set up everything in Default profile and click OK to keep changes. However, if you need to use different settings it's useful to create separate profiles to save the settings.

To create a new profile click New button in and type in name of profile. If the name is already used, OK button will be disabled. Settings of the new profile will be based on current settings in options dialog.

To rename a profile, select it from the list and click Rename button. If the name you type in is already used, OK button will be disabled.

To delete a profile, select it from the list and click Delete button. At least one profile has to remain.

To set and update preferences and price lists in more installations of Text Count, you can save all profiles into a file by clicking Export button in the bottom of Options dialog. Preferences are saved into *.tcp file, which you can import.

To import profiles click Import button and select desired*.tcp file. If the Text Count into which you import already contains profiles of the same name, (old) will be added after original name of the profile.

Exporting and importing profiles can also be useful for archiving and backup of your settings.

Switching host platform

How To Read Results

6.1

In case you are counting single text box with overflow text, counts for story and for text box show different numbers. When counting story, selection or document, you get counts for whole text, including the overflow one. When counting text boxes or page, only the text in the boxes is counted and overflow text is counted separately.

Count method

Text Count counts words and characters the same way as Microsoft Word. It gives exactly same results for identical text.

Estimates

Estimates for empty text boxes and for remaining space should facilitate production when you don't have all the content ready.

To obtain the best result, it's important to have desired character and paragraph style of the frame defined. Estimates also get more accurate, when there is already some text in the document. During whole production Text Count learns about characters and words used and refines the estimates. Estimate for text box or story can improve markedly, when one or two lines of the future content are in it.

Making text box tailored for its future content

When you create a new text box, Text Count starts estimating word count to fill the empty space immediately. Just set the desired style of text and start adjusting the size of a frame until you see desired word count in estimate pane. As with the other estimates, pasting a line or two of text similar to the future content will refine the results.

DTP Tools team wishes you a pleasant spending of the time Text Count will save you.
